SPIRITUAL READING & REFLECTION

12TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

He woke up, rebuked the wind, and said to the sea, "Quiet! Be still!" The wind ceased and there was great calm. Then he asked them, "Why are you terrified? Do you not yet have faith?"
- Mk 4:39-40

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

ELP

CALMED BY THE PRESENCE OF CHRIST

Some months ago I began to feel the presence of God less than before. At first I thought of various things, fearing that they were the reason why the Lord had withdrawn from me, [but] the Lord made me realize that I should concentrate on loving him and believing in his love. I then promised Jesus that I would never doubt his love. And I believe that love has continued to guide me, though less sensibly, and to make me understand many other things....

I said that I experience the presence of God less, but it would be better to say that I now experience it in another way. Formerly, I experienced and enjoyed the tenderness of the divine arms carrying me; but now, without ceasing to believe that he still carries me, I experience the holiness of God and my own nothingness. My whole prayer is to ask mercy, grace, and pardon. Many times I meditate on the Miserere (Ps 51), when the Lord lets me do so, but at other times I do nothing but remain quiet in my nothingness, and silence is my supplication. If at times I fear I may not have done what I ought or have displeased the Lord somehow by working against the Spirit, I realize at once that such is not the case. They were faults and imperfections that did not penetrate to the depths of my soul; the mercy of God consumes them and I do not lose my peace and quiet.

There are moments when it seems that a great torrent of water is confined in my heart and it wants to gush forth with great force. Then I don't know what to do; I feel foolish and can only say: "O Jesus, give me love." I go to Mary and say to her: "My Mother, teach me how to love Jesus. Give me the love of your heart. In order to love him as much as you loved him and still love him. My Mother, give me love, for I suffer greatly."

Sometimes in recreation the nuns ask me about spiritual things. I only know that in loving God one is blessed and lacks nothing and understands everything, although one may not know how to express it.

VENERABLE MOTHER MARY MAGDALEN OF JESUS IN THE EUCHARIST, C.P. Venerable Mother Mary Magdalen († 1960) was a Passionist nun from Spain and a spiritual writer. June 2021 Magnificat
